SUBSCRIPTION SERVICES TERMS

Introduction. Slack is a collaboration hub where groups of users, or “teams,” may collaborate within and across separate but interconnected digital spaces, or “workspaces.” Users are assigned to one or more workspaces within the Enterprise Grid by an administrator and when those users create or join teams, whether based on department, office location or project, they can share and organize content by “channels”.

The “Total Slack Users” constitutes the outer boundaries of anticipated users within an organization, or group of organizations, which in this case covers workspaces used for the benefit of the named Customer entity above. The “Services” provided by Nextup are available to the “Total Slack Users” and Nextup calculated the fees above based on Customer’s good faith projection of Total Slack Users.

Unlimited Usage & Growth. Subject to the terms of this Order Form, Customer may add an unlimited number of users to Total Slack Users during the annual period without incurring additional fees prior to the Annual Refresh.

Annual Refresh. If the number of users exceeds the Total Slack Users at the start of any annual anniversary of the order form start date, Nextup will invoice Customer for then current Total Slack Users.

BILLING & RENEWALS

Billing. Payment obligations for all Services, are non-cancelable and non-refundable. However, if payment was made in advance for the Services that has a subscription term that extends into and overlaps with the Order Term, a pro- rata portion of the payment that covers the overlapping term will be credited and applied against the Subscription Fees stated above.

Subscription Payment Terms. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary, Subscription Fees for the Order Term will be invoiced on or around the Order Form Start Date.
